Week One	Descriptive Writing: Responding to a setting stimulus	In this lesson, we will be looking at how to plan effectively for a setting based descriptive task. We'll look at a range of planning tools to help us generate ideas and organise our material in a way which will have an impact on the reader.	https://classroom.thenational.academy/lessons/descriptive-writing-responding-to-a-setting-stimulus-6wrp6c
	Descriptive writing: Responding to an 'image' stimulus	In this lesson, we will be looking at how to respond to an image-based description task: either of a person, persons or objects. We will start by thinking about different character types and their function in written texts before experimenting with a number of stimulus images and techniques.	https://classroom.thenational.academy/lessons/descriptive-writing-responding-to-an-image-stimulus-cdh68t
Week Two	Use of symbolism in your writing	In this lesson, we will be exploring how symbolism can be used in our writing. We will start by looking at some potential symbols and generating our initial ideas. Then, we will look at how one of these symbols has been used by a student in a piece of writing before returning to our own work and developing our ideas further.	https://classroom.thenational.academy/lessons/use-of-symbolism-in-your-writing-6xjkad
