Headteacher's Welcome

As we reach the end of another busy and rewarding week at Rainham Mark Grammar School, I would like to take a moment to thank our students, staff and families for the positive way in which they have adapted to the new arrangements resulting from the ongoing site development work. Change can often bring challenges, but the resilience, flexibility and good humour shown by our school community have been exceptional. Thank you to everyone for embracing these temporary adjustments so positively and for continuing to ensure that learning remains at the heart of all we do.

This week, I had the privilege of watching our Year 12 students Antonia M, Kieran V, Amelia M and Adela G deliver a presentation about their recent True Adventure expedition and volunteering experience in Nepal. I was both inspired and immensely proud as they reflected on their experiences, the challenges they faced, and the impact the trip had on their personal development. Their presentation exemplified the values and life skills that we hope all RMGS students will develop during their time with us and carry forward into the future. For many of us who work in education and with young people, this is exactly what we aspire to achieve: to work alongside young people who are as, curious, respectful of the world around them and courageous in their pursuit of happiness and fulfilment. Our students demonstrated all these qualities in abundance, and they should be incredibly proud of themselves.

My sincere thanks go to Mrs Moore for organising the recent Borneo Expedition Information Evening for parents and carers. It was wonderful to see so many families attending and showing such enthusiasm for supporting their young people to participate in what promises to be a truly transformational experience.

The European Day of Languages Bake Off was a wonderful celebration of the rich cultures and traditions of Europe, with students producing an impressive array of cakes inspired by different European countries. The creativity, effort and attention to detail on display were truly fantastic. Thank you to all the students who participated and to the staff who enthusiastically took part in the tasting sessions. A special thank you to Ms Brodkorb, Head of MFL, for organising such a successful and enjoyable event that brought our school community together in celebration of language, culture and creativity.

I have also been struck this week by the many random acts of kindness shown across our school community. Thank you to Ms Wilkins for generously sharing her culinary talents and baking some truly exceptional cheese scones for colleagues. Thank you also to Mrs D Stewart (Medical Needs Co-ordinator) for sharing her creativity and kindness by knitting a delightful October Advent Calendar, simply because it would bring a smile to others.

These acts of kindness have been reflected in our student body too. It has been lovely to see students taking time to help Year 7 students find their lessons when they were unsure where to go. Equally heartening was seeing older students supporting a Year 7 student who had misplaced her Yondr pouch. These moments may seem small, but they speak volumes about the culture of belonging that exists within our school.

I wish you all a restful and enjoyable weekend and look forward to welcoming our students back on Monday for another successful week of learning and opportunity.

Medway Test

As has been the case for come years now, last weekend Rainham Mark became a test venue for the 11 Plus exam known as the Medway Test. This is a selective entrance exam, used to identify children suited for admission to one of the six Medway grammar schools.

The exam was invigilated by our own team of very experienced Invigilators. Many RMGS students would recognise these familiar faces from their GCSE and A-level exams. As always, they provided a positive, caring and peaceful environment across both Saturday and Sunday, while working to minimise the stress for a total of just under 300 local and out-of-area Year 6 pupils.

We are looking to recruit for the new cohort to start in October 2026

The fire cadet scheme runs for young people aged 13-17 and is term time only and is completely free. Rochester cadets run on a Tuesday night 18:30 - 20:30. During their time at cadets they will take part in fun and inclusive experiences, providing them with the opportunities to develop skills in leadership, resilience, socialising and confidence as well as learning new practical and transferable skills to build their future. They would also learn key skills from the fire service such a CPR awareness and Level 1 water safety.

I am writing to ask if your school would be able to promote Fire cadets

Applications are currently live with access available here - Kent Fire Cadet Application Form

Applications will close on the 14th October with a view to start the first week on the 3rd November. The course runs up to 40 weeks and takes place during term time only. This cohort runs on Tuesdays evenings 18:30-20:30 where young people can learn and enhance a number of skills such as leadership, communication and resilience.

We aspire to run a diverse cohort and promote equality of access for all young people, encouraging them to achieve their National Fire Chief Council Fire Cadet Award – Level 1. More information can be found on our webpage here - Education - Fire Cadets | Kent Fire and Rescue Service

We will also be running drop-in session on the 30th September, where my colleague will deliver a short presentation promoting this fantastic opportunity. These sessions are designed for young people to access and to be facilitated by teachers, educators and colleagues in partner agencies. We ask that this information is passed to the appropriate member of staff who could select a group of young people who may be interested in the opportunity. A group of young people who will thrive and already display a strong skillset is welcomed as equally to those who will benefit from a structured, safe and inspiring environment, led by positive and uniformed role models. Places are limited and it is strictly 13 – 17-year-olds.

It was lovely to see so many parents, guardians and students attending the Borneo 2028 Information Evening last night.

Louise Plummer, Operations Manager at True Adventure, gave us a very informative talk about the expedition's general itinerary and activities. The students would be trekking through Borneo's rainforest, volunteering with a conservation project and experiencing Borneo's most biodiverse ecosystems on Earth! You can find out more about the expedition through the Borneo landing page.

We had also the pleasure to hear from four of our Y12 students who went on a similar expedition to Nepal in July this year. We heard about trekking through the Himalayas, volunteering with KRMF <https://www.krmef.org/> and their cultural experiences. Their speeches were inspiring and full of confidence.

How to help at home with

Getting back to school

Four weeks into the term, the initial "back to school" energy may have worn off. Young people can start feeling tired, motivation dips, and homework and expectations begin to increase. This is a good time to reset rather than restart.

Ask what is working and what is making mornings, homework or bedtime difficult. Make one or two small changes rather than trying to fix everything at once.

Look ahead together. Check the week for PE days, homework deadlines, tests or changes to routine. Knowing what's coming can reduce Sunday-evening and morning stress.

Don't panic about an occasional difficult day. Motivation naturally fluctuates. A bad Monday doesn't necessarily mean the whole week will be difficult

You don't have to feel motivated every day. Concentrate on the next step—getting up, getting ready, getting through the school gates and taking the day one lesson at a time.

90 miles in October for Mind

Reiss Wynne is fundraising for Mind

Help us reach our £500 goal

justgiving.com/fundraising/reiss1789317546098

This October, I'm taking on 90 miles for Mind to raise money and awareness for mental health.

I'm part of an F1 in Schools / STEM Racing team, so I'm always doing different projects and challenges, but I wanted to take on something outside of racing that supports a cause that's really important.

Mind's phone lines are currently busier than ever, and with 1 in 4 people in the UK experiencing a mental health problem, the support they provide is needed now more than ever.

I'm aiming to complete the 90 miles throughout October, and I'd really appreciate any donations to help me reach my fundraising goal. Even a small donation can help Mind continue providing information and support through their website, helplines and Side by Side community.

Thanks to anyone who donates or shares!

You do not have to be business or even a professional speaker - just someone who is keen to support our students as they start to navigate their next steps
